

Corporate Match – How to

Many employers support their employees' charitable efforts through their matched-giving program. Even if an employer does not have such a program, they may still be willing to support your challenge and make a donation. All you have to do is ask!

Who to ask:

Contact your HR or Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) department and ask if your company has a program to support employees' charitable efforts.

You need to let them know about your participation in Fred's Big Run and fundraising efforts to support The Fred Hollows Foundation. Inform them of your fundraising goal and find out if they will match or contribute to your fundraising.

How we can assist you:

We supply you with an official letter confirming your participation in Fred's Big Run and the amount you have raised so far.

That letter is detailing our charitable status and has all the details your HR or CSR needs to make a match gift. An request we can also send your employer a tax invoice and receipt for their match gift.

Donations to The Fred Hollows Foundation are tax deductible for an Australian company.

Information your employer may need to match your fundraising:

Charity Name:	The Fred Hollows Foundation	ABN:	46 070 556 642
Account Name:	The Fred Hollows Foundation Operating Account	Account:	304 917
DGR Status:	Yes	BSB:	032 057

The Foundation's Contact details are: email: fredsbigrun@hollows.org or Phone 1800 627 892

Some of the many Australian companies offering matched giving programs:

3M, AMP, Accenture, Australand, Bloomberg, Barclays, Credit Suisse, CA Technologies, Clayton Utz, Deloitte, Deutsche Bank, IBM, Ebay, Freehills, Fosters Group, Goldman Sachs, Google, Greenwoods & Freehills, Investec Bank, Johnson & Johnson, Janssen-Cilag Australia, Macquarie Bank, Miele Australia, MLC, Origin Energy, NAB, REA Group, Rheem, Sun Microsystems, SP Ausnet, Symantic, Stockland, Thomson Reuters, Vodaphone, UBS, Unilever, Upstream Print Solutions, Westpac, Woolworths

Other ways to involve your workplace:

There are other ways to involve your work colleagues and employer to support your fundraising efforts. Morning teas, back sales, chocolate sales, a jellybeans guessing competition and more. Your work colleagues and employer could also offer to be your support crew for the day.

Contact us at fredsbigrun@hollows.org or call us on 1800 627 892